

CHECKLIST FOR CREATING AN EFFECTIVE SOCIAL MEDIA POLICY

Employers' social media and internet policies are a top enforcement priority for the NLRB. Below is a checklist that employers can use to create an effective social media policy. Please continue to visit the Employment LawScene™ for more policy pointers and practical guidance.

- Evaluate your business' needs and goals.
- Take a stance on social media use—will you encourage, permit, or simply tolerate it?
- Understand and be familiar with the latest federal and state laws and NLRB rulings and guidance.
- Create a Social Media Policy that addresses your business needs and goals.
- Define "Social Media."
- Include key provisions:
 - Notify employees that they should have no expectation of privacy when using Company-issued equipment, systems, or networks.
 - Notify employees that the Company reserves the right to monitor data transmitted through Company-issued equipment, systems, or networks.
 - Remind employees that the Company's computer systems, networks, and equipment are Company property.
 - Remind employees to include a disclaimer when writing personal blogs or posts stating that he or she is a Company employee and that any views and opinions expressed are the employee's and do not represent official statements or views of the Company.
 - Remind employees of prohibitions against disclosing confidential or proprietary Company information.
 - Notify employees of prohibition against using social media to harass co-workers.
 - Encourage employees to report violations to the Company's social media policy to management.
- Provide specific examples of prohibited conduct.
- Avoid overly broad statements, especially concerning disparagement of the Company, respectful workplace, and confidentiality.
- Include a clause stating that the employer's policies are not intended to and should not be interpreted to interfere with or infringe upon employees' rights to engage in protected concerted activity.
- Notify employees of the Company's stance regarding social media use during working hours and while using Company resources.
- Clearly identify the consequences for violating the policy.

- Review other existing personnel policies to determine whether they apply to employees' use of social media.
- Implement your Social Media Policy by distributing the policy to all employees and obtaining acknowledgment of receipt.
- Enforce and apply your policy consistently (be aware that monitoring employee use of social media sites and other off-duty conduct may be prohibited under federal or state law, terms and conditions of social media sites themselves, and collective bargaining agreements).
- Train employees on the appropriate uses of social media.
- Review your policy annually and update according to changes in the law.
