

HEALTH CARE REFORM PASSES; BUSINESSES NEED TO START PLANNING FOR IMPLEMENTATION

The Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act has been signed into law, and with certain modifications to be added through the House Reconciliation Act, health care reform is certain to have a substantial impact on American businesses in the years to come. Among other things, the reform includes over $400 billion in revenue raisers and new taxes on employers and individuals as well as a laundry list of new reporting requirements. More forms and red tape are in the cards for all of us. Here is a list of a few such changes:

- Starting in 2014, individuals not otherwise eligible for health insurance under a government program shall be required either to maintain minimum essential coverage or to pay an annual penalty;
- Grants for premium assistance tax credits and other benefits to guarantee that certain low income individuals do not have to spend more than a specific percentage of their income on medical insurance premiums;
- Businesses that employ 50 or more workers will have to either provide “minimum essential coverage” to the workers or pay an annual penalty of up to $2,000 per uninsured employee (the first 30 workers are not included in the penalty calculation);
- Businesses may also face the imposition of penalties for waiting periods in excess of 90 days for employee insurance coverage;
- Businesses of less than 25 employees and average annual wages of less than $40,000 may be eligible for a sliding-scale small employer tax credit of between 35-50 percent to help offset the cost of employer-provided coverage;
- Restrictions on cafeteria plans are relaxed to encourage small employers to offer tax-free benefits to employees, including those related to health insurance coverage;
- Starting in 2013, higher-income taxpayers will face an increase in their Medicare payroll tax of 0.9 percent upon earned income in excess of $200,000 for single individuals and $250,000 for families, and 3.8 percent upon unearned income from interest, dividends, rents and certain passive activities in excess of $200,000 for single individuals and $250,000 for joint filers;
- Also starting in 2013, new spending restrictions, contribution limits and nonqualified distribution penalties are imposed upon Qualified Health Savings Accounts (HSAs); the threshold for the medical expense deduction is increased from 7.5 percent to 10 percent of adjusted gross income for individuals under 65 years of age; and the deduction for employers who maintain prescription drug coverage is eliminated for employees who are eligible for Medicare Part D; and

- Starting in 2018, group insurers face a 40% surtax on high-end employer-sponsored health plans in which annual premium payments exceed an inflation adjusted $10,200 for individual coverage and $27,500 for family coverage.

The implementation of these taxes and reporting requirements are to be made between now and 2018, depending on the particular item. Each business should begin considering the reform's impact on its own operations to soften the impending blow. Planning opportunities are sure to arise as the reform moves from Washington to Main Street.
