ATTORNEY JOSEPH GUMINA RECENTLY QUOTED IN THE MILWAUKEE BUSINESS JOURNAL

Attorney Joseph Gumina was recently quoted in the Milwaukee Business Journal published on January 14, 2022, in an article titled "Employers relieved that SCOTUS ruling nixes potential for costly employee COVID-19 tests: Attorneys." The article outlines the Supreme Court's recent ruling against OSHA's vaccination-or-test rule that would have required large employers, starting February 9, to mandate employee vaccinations or require weekly COVID-19 testing of unvaccinated workers.

In the article, Gumina discusses what employers should expect and what he has experienced in his management-side employment practice. “The surge in Omicron variant cases might cause some employers to take temporary measures including shutdowns to keep their workforces healthy,” Gumina said. “They’ve had to adjust and change to address COVID-19 in the workplace on a moment’s notice,” noting the ongoing adjustments employers have made throughout the pandemic on how they operate. Being mindful that OSHA still retains several enforcement tools in its arsenal to address COVID-19 in the workplace, Gumina stated: “I think employers should remain vigilant in making sure they create a safe work environment for all employees.”

“[T]he selection procedures employed by [Super Lawyers] are very sophisticated, comprehensive and complex.

It is abundantly clear . . . that [Super Lawyers does] not permit a lawyer to buy one’s way onto the list, nor is there any requirement for the purchase of any product for inclusion in the lists or any quid pro quo of any kind or nature associated with the evaluation and listing of an attorney or in the subsequent advertising of one’s inclusion in the lists.”

OCHDL HIGHLIGHTED FOR ORAL ARGUMENTS BEFORE WISCONSIN SUPREME COURT

In a recent article authored by a professor at Marquette University, O'Neil Cannon was prominently mentioned for its activity and success before the Wisconsin Supreme Court. In the article, the professor discusses what law firms were most active and successful before the Court during the Court's past three terms (2018-2021).

The article notes that 13 law firms, including OCHDL, have had at least three oral arguments before the Court during the Court's past three terms and, of those firms, OCHDL had the third most oral arguments. The article also notes that only two of these 13 law firms prevailed in all of their cases before the Court, with OCHDL being one of them.

Additionally, the article examined how each law firm won (or lost) the support of each individual justice in the respective cases they argued. Only one of the firms—OCHDL—was successful in obtaining at least two-thirds of the votes cast by every justice who participated in their cases.

OCHDL is honored to be recognized for its success in representing clients before the Wisconsin Supreme Court.
